

PRIVACY NOTICE

1. General information

This Privacy Notice describes how Kamux Group (later “we” or “Kamux”) processes personal data; what personal data Kamux collects, how the data is used and to whom the data is disclosed, and how the data subject can control the processing. The Privacy Notice also informs about the obligations Kamux follows when processing personal data.

Kamux’s business concept is to focus on used car sales. This Privacy Notice applies to all products and services offered by Kamux in the stores, showrooms, online and through marketing (later “Products” and “Services”), and the video surveillance at Kamux premises. This Privacy Notice covers all persons whose personal data are processed (later “data subjects”, “you”) in connection to the Products and Services described above or the video surveillance. It applies also, where applicable, to the partners and stakeholders involved in the business.

Kamux is dedicated to protecting the privacy of the data subjects and commits to process their personal data in compliance with the European Union’s General Data Protection Regulation (2016/679), (later “GDPR”) and other applicable privacy laws and regulations.

Personal data refers to information, which allows a person to be directly or indirectly identified as an individual person, as defined the GDPR. Examples of personal data: name, email address and date of birth.

3. Purpose and legal basis of the processing of personal data

We only process personal data that are relevant for the purpose it has been collected or obtained for, and we process the data in compliance with laws and regulations.

Sales, purchase, customer services, administration and internal development

Personal data are processed for the sales/purchase of our products and services including orders/purchases, delivery, invoicing, warranties, complaints and quality assurance.

Personal data of customers and potential customers are also processed for customer services, customer relationship management, customer communications (including customer feedback and satisfaction surveys), quality assurance, service planning and development, analysis, generating statistics and administrative purposes such as consent and rights management.

Kamux Group

The legal bases of the processing are fulfilment of requests of the data subject prior to entering into a contract, e.g. requests for information or quotation or purchase orders, the performance of a contract or preparation of a contract with Kamux and the legitimate interests of Kamux. The legitimate interests include administration and development of the Products and Services, and operations which are necessary for carrying out pre-contractual measures such as inquiries concerning our Products or Services.

Marketing

Personal data are used by Kamux and its partners to various kinds of marketing including promotional events, competitions, surveys and market research. Legal basis of the processing is the legitimate interest of Kamux for developing and promoting the business, and your consent when it is required for certain processing. You have the right to object to the processing of your Personal data to marketing purposes (opt-out).

When Personal data are used to electronic direct marketing (such as contacting you via SMS and email), the marketing will be based on your consent (opt-in) which you can withdraw at any time. However, Kamux can send direct marketing regarding similar product and services you have acquired from us, and using the electronic contact information provided by you. You have the right to object to this kind of marketing too, and it is possible to do it also in advance (opt-out).

We arrange promotional events and competitions where we collect information provided by you. Participation is voluntary and thus the processing related to the event or competition is based on your consent which you can withdraw at any time.

Tracking and automated decision making including profiling

We track service usage and behaviour on our web pages for service development and to offer you better service and customer experience. We also utilise the data for marketing and internal development. See separate Cookie Policy (www.kamux.fi/cookiepolicy, www.kamux.se/cookiepolicy, www.kamux.de/cookiepolicy, www.kamux.com/cookiepolicy).

Information security, physical security including video surveillance and vehicle and tax fraud prevention

Personal data, including video surveillance recordings, are processed for preventing, detecting and remediating fraud or other potentially prohibited or illegal activities. They are also processed for protecting data and property. Personal data can be used for investigating possible security incidents, crimes or damages.

The purpose of the video surveillance is also to ensure personal safety of people working or visiting the premises. The video cameras are located at Kamux premises. They record people working and visiting the areas covered by the cameras. The premises have signs that inform people of the video surveillance.

Processing related to security and safety is a legal obligation, but some of the security measures are done in the legitimate interests of Kamux such as protection of our property.

Legal obligations

We also process personal data when required by applicable law and/or to comply with the laws and regulations (e.g. accounting or other specific legislation). The legal obligation is the basis for the processing.

Purposes that require your consent

Your consent is required for certain types of processing of your personal data such as electronic direct marketing (newsletter order) and processing of sensitive data. We do not intend to collect sensitive personal data, but data subjects may submit it voluntarily, and then we process it based on consent.

For the processing of personal data that you have given your consent you can withdraw your consent at any time regarding further processing of your personal data. See instructions further down (o Rights of the data subjects and the Supervisory authority). We will comply with such request unless there is another legitimate ground to process the data.

The digital camera recordings are kept in a locked space with limited access. The recordings can only be accessed by authorized personnel and can only be shared when required by authorities according to laws and regulations. Old recordings are regularly destroyed when a new recording overwrites them. However, recordings related to damages or crimes are saved as long as necessary for the investigation and other legal measures.

We inform the authorities and users/data subjects of data breaches according to applicable information security and data protection regulation(s).

Rights of the data subjects and the Supervisory authority

The data subjects have the rights set out in the applicable data protection legislation.

Right to access and verify

You have the right to have confirmed if we process your personal data.

You have the right to verify and access your personal data and to request us to provide you the data in writing or electronically.

Right to correct and erase (right to be forgotten)

You have the right to have corrected any incorrect or incomplete personal data. You have also the right to request us to remove data.

We also remove, correct and complete incorrect, unnecessary, incomplete or outdated data on our own initiative when we notice such data.

Right to data portability and to object and restrict processing

You have the right to transmit your data to another controller.

You have the right to request us to restrict processing of your personal data in accordance with the conditions set out in the data protection legislation. We will also restrict the processing of your personal data if we cannot correct or remove incorrect data, or if there is any uncertainty related to request to erase your data.

You have the right to object to processing of your personal data for certain purposes. You have the right to deny any processing or transferring of data for direct marketing.

Right to withdraw consent

If the processing of your personal data is based on consent, you have the right to withdraw consent at any time. The withdrawal does not affect the lawfulness of processing based on consent before its withdrawal.

You can deny any direct marketing and withdraw your consent regarding electronic direct marketing by following the instructions received in connection to the marketing communication (e.g. in the marketing email or SMS).

You can always withdraw any consent including parental consent by contacting Kamux using the contact information provided in the beginning of this document (1 General information
